

In conjunction with the Synagogue Networking Groups of lower Westchester (SYNGROW*) is proud to present:

CAREER TRANSFORMATIONS: PATHS TO ACT TWO

We invite you to hear how our panelists successfully followed their passions to new careers!

Tuesday, May 11th, 7:30 -9:30 pm, Larchmont Temple Garden Room

About our very special moderator

LISA BELKIN is the author of Life's Work Column in the New York Times, and the book Life's Work: Confessions of an Unbalanced Mom, she is also the author of Motherlode blog, New York Times.com and is a regular contributor on the Today Show on Life/Work issues

About our panelists

SCOTT FREIMAN After 15 years of running a public software company, Scott sold his company and followed his passion by beginning a second career as a composer, producer, and studio owner.

JUDY MIZNER Judy had a wonderfully crazy job as Publisher for The Village Voice, which ended with the sale of paper, and after an exhaustive job search in an industry that was churning, she decided to leave publishing and use her skills to help others as a financial advisor with Ameriprise.

SUZANNE TILLMAN Suzanne's first career was in corporate HR and, after returning to school, is now in the non-profit sector setting up small public schools through New York City Outward Bound.

NANCY FRIEDBERG Known for her pioneering spirit, Nancy is an expert in Career Management and Career Reinvention. For the past 17 years, Nancy has successfully coached over 1500 Executives, Managers, and Professionals spanning 10 industries and over 50 professions.

To attend the May 11th event, please RSVP to Amy Sommer amysommer@aol.com or 914-235-4210

*A newly formed collaboration of the following synagogues: Beth El Synagogue Center - New Rochelle, Larchmont Temple, Scarsdale Synagogue Temples Tremont and Emanu-El, Westchester Jewish Center – Mamaroneck, Westchester Reform Temple - Scarsdale, Young Israel of New Rochelle and Young Israel of Scarsdale